First Person Singular

By HARRY ELWOOD

Last Saturday, with many fearful palpitations, I became an editor and publisher for the first time in my reasonably young life.

For the next few weeks I'll be floundering about trying to master, or at least keep even with, the countless and largely unsung duties that beset the owners of weekly newspapers. I beg your indulgence.

The Sierra Madre News, I trust, will continue to reach you each Thursday. With the assistance of the paper's able staff, I hope to carry on the good work of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jenkinson and of earlier owners.

I have some pretty definite ideas about newspapers, and, in time, I hope to put them into practice.

Weekly newspapers represent the last stronghold of personalized journalism. In the 19th and early 20th centuries, metropolitan dailies also had the personal touch. Editors and publishers actually labored on their papers and, in fact, were occasionally attacked with horse whips and canes for their efforts.

Well, I sincerely hope no one mauls my skinny back with a buggy whip. Weekly newspapers, however, are of necessity the personal products of their owners. I hope to make the Sierra Madre News a vigorous paper, a paper worthy of your readership.

Politically, the Sierra Madre News will be independent. By that I mean the paper will support for office those candidates who appear to be most competent and who will do the best job for the voters, regardless of the candidates' political affiliation.

Ethically, the Sierra Madre News will strive mightily to live by that old axiom—Freedom of the Press.

Freedom of the Press does not mean the publisher's freedom to print what he wishes to print and to withhold that which he wishes to withhold. It means, instead, that the readers are free to find out what is going on through their newspapers, within the bounds of decency and good taste. All the news, both popular and unpopular.

Every paper, of course, is restricted by time, space and locality. The Sierra Madre News will be strictly local. We will try to print something about every important and entertaining event in this area which may be of interest to our readers.

This column, "First Person Singular," will appear in the Sierra Madre News almost (I use the word advisedly) every week.

The unfortunate truth about a column is that it has to appear regularly, whether or not the writer has anything to say.

I decided to use the "I," or first person singular, because the opinions expressed here will be entirely my own. In addition, I admit to a slight prejudice in this respect. I have always felt that the egotistical "I" is not quite so pretentious as the royal "we."

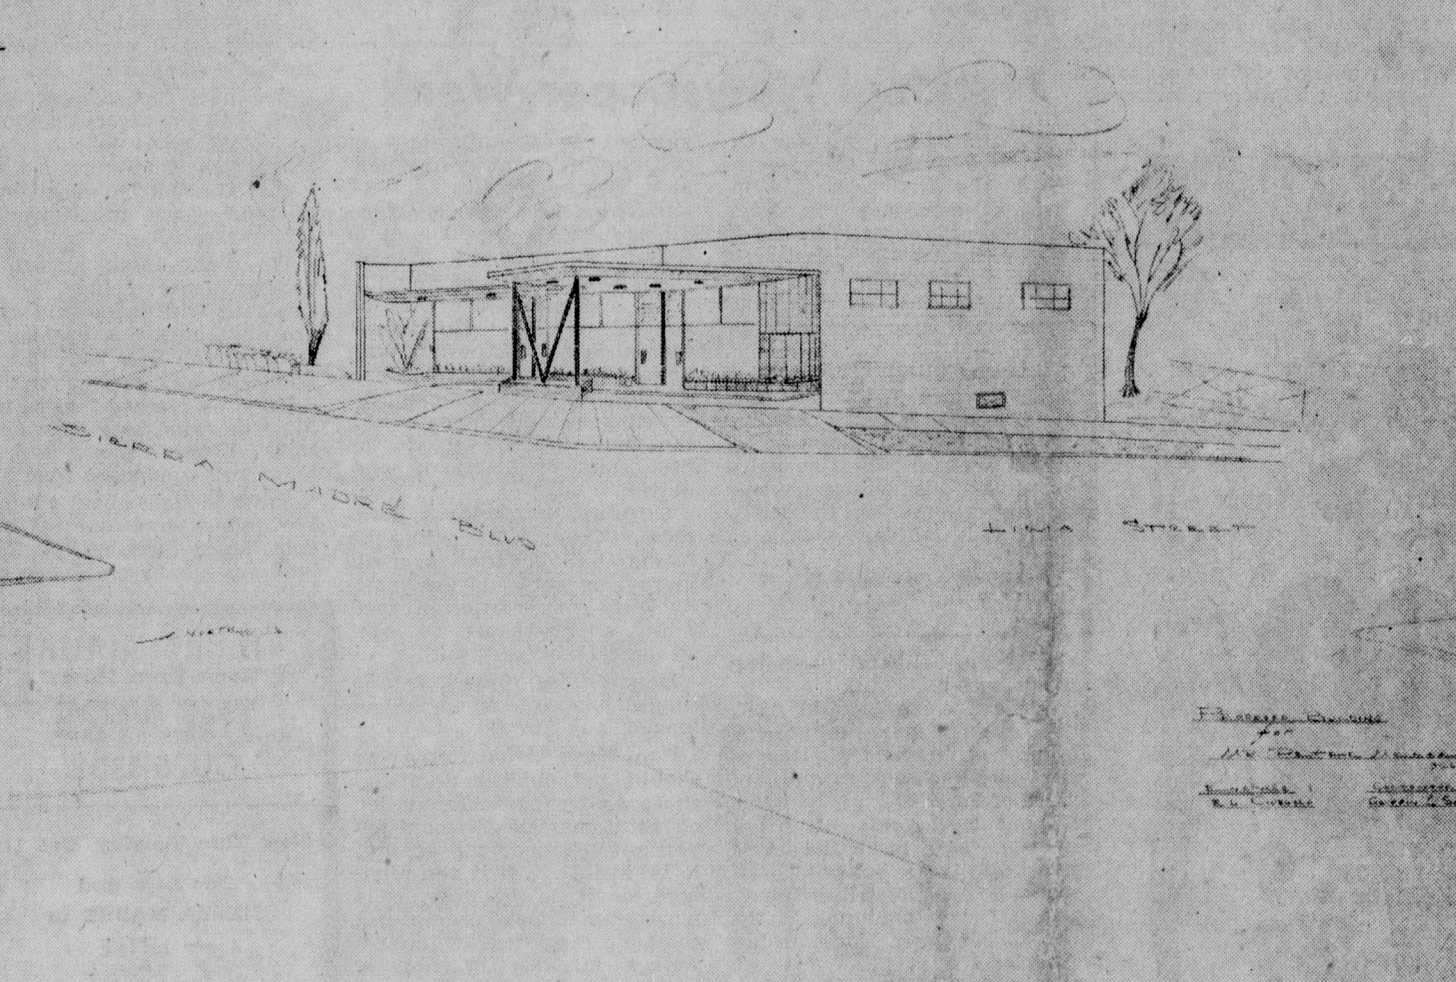

Before I finish, I want to thank all the kind people in this lovely town who have wished me well. I think they meant it.

Water Rate Boost Postponed; Report Outlines City's Needs

A second reading of the ordinance raising water rates from 10 to 20 per cent was postponed at the City Council meeting Tuesday night to give councilmen time to study a new report prepared by City Administrator Lawrence Bevington.

The report, which outlines steps the city must take to meet the water problem, will not be made public until the council meeting next Tuesday.

Three letters protesting the proposed rate increase were read at the council session. Each protested that the new rates would not be fair, especially regarding larger consumers.

THIS NEW BUILDING being constructed by P. M. Messe on the corner of Lima and W. Sierra Madre Blvd. is expected to be completed by Nov. 15. The four-story development shown reproduced here from an architect's drawing, may contain a cleaning and laundry shop, a shoe repair business and other enterprises.

Civic Spirit Seen High in Float Plans

By LEE SHIPPEY

Not only will Sierra Madre have a float in the Tournament of Roses Parade but indications are it will be supported by the enthusiastic community spirit which marked the creation of our floats for so many years.

That was the conclusion of Emory Johnston, chairman of the Float Committee, after the committee meeting Wednesday night of last week. The reason for such optimism was the action of the City Council in voting to contribute up to $500, if necessary, and the reports of committees.

City Manager Bevington was present and contributed helpful ideas. Burton Cousins, Jack Dewar and Bill Jack reported that the committee on construction had plans for building a chassis which would accommodate any sized float within the means of a moderate budget and solve that problem for years to come.

Duncan Aldrich offered to produce posters which will be displayed in numerous places and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dewey, who were the mainstays of float activities for years, have already contributed much helpful information and expressed a desire to continue to help.

Members of several civic groups have promised that their organizations will cooperate. Albert E. Morgan, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was similarly quoted.

A number of persons have already made contributions at the Bank of Sierra Madre, indicating far greater public interest than at this time last year.

It was decided to invite clubs and civic organizations to name their own candidates for queen. Clubs also will take part in the rose sale Dec. 2 and 3.

Each organization will back its candidate with a number of assistant rose sellers. The team raising most by rose sales will name its candidate queen.

There also will be a dance Dec. 3 at which the prize-winning float theme will be announced and the plans unveiled.

LOUIS HANSEN DIES; FINAL RITES TODAY

Louis Arthur Hansen, 580 N. Sierra Madre Blvd., Pasadena, died unexpectedly in his home Monday following a heart attack. He was 60 years old.

A resident of California for the past 15 years, Mr. Hansen was associated with his brother, Carl, who owns the local Ford agency.

A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the Masonic Order and of the Rotary Club. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. today in Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with the Rev. R. Hylton Sanders of Pasadena officiating. Interment will be in Live Oak Memorial Park, Monrovia.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude M. Hansen, and daughter, Louise A. Hansen, both of Pasadena; a sister, Mrs. Marion Denmore, of Covina, and a brother, Carl, of Sierra Madre.

Democrats Select New 1956 Officers

The first action of the Sierra Madre Democratic Club at its meeting Monday evening was unanimously to adopt a resolution expressing the earnest hopes of the club for the complete recovery of President Eisenhower.

The club then elected David Arenson to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Kurt Mueller, who resigned as president because he has been appointed chief of chemical research at the North American Aviation plant near Santa Susana and will move as soon as possible.

Frazier Dougherty, vice president, had succeeded to the presidency, but his business takes him out of town so often he felt unable to carry on the duties. Mrs. Thomas Lathe was elected vice president to succeed Dougherty.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK SET

President Eisenhower has proclaimed the week of Oct. 9-15 as Fire Prevention Week—a fact noted by the City Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

Along with thousands of other communities throughout North America, Sierra Madre will observe this oldest of all special weeks with a campaign under the sponsorship of the Fire Department, which is headed by James Heasley.

"Don't Give Fire a Place to Start" is the slogan of this year's program. This slogan, the City Council observed, has been followed to the letter by the Sierra Madre Fire Department in the past year.

City Advances In Off-Street Parking Goal

The final acquisition of three off-street parking lots moved a step nearer completion at the City Council meeting Tuesday night.

City Administrator Lawrence Bevington reported that all legal details regarding the lots have been sent to Ray Lindman, an attorney in the law firm of O'Melveny-Myers, for study.

Lindman's report will be completed in time to be discussed at next week's council meeting. Cost of the lots, recently acquired by the city, must be assessed to all business establishments in the parking district. Bevington said the assessed valuation of the lots is only about 4 per cent higher than was originally estimated. The original figure was $50,000.

It is doubtful, however, whether the lots will be ready for parking by Christmas—the aim of the council.

Former Mayor In Hospital

C. W. Jones, Sierra Madre's first mayor and one of the city's oldest residents, was admitted to Sierra Madre Hospital last Saturday.

Hospital attendants described his condition as "improving," but did not reveal the nature of his illness. It was reported, however, that he is suffering from ulcers.

Guy Rossi Is Assistant Postmaster

Guy Rossi, an employee of the Post Office here since 1946, has been appointed assistant postmaster in Sierra Madre, effective Oct. 1. His appointment was confirmed Tuesday.

Rossi was appointed to the postal service March 1, 1939, in Canton, O., his home town. Two years later, he was drafted and spent the next five years in the Army.

For nine months, Rossi was clerk-in-charge of the Army Post Office in New Zealand. He was transferred back to the United States and worked in the Army Post Office in Santa Anita.

Discharged in 1946, Rossi was assigned to the Sierra Madre Post Office as a carrier. He was transferred as a clerk to the U.S. Post Office in Fall River, Mass., where he spent four months before he was assigned once again to Sierra Madre.

From March, 1948, until his appointment as assistant postmaster, he was finance clerk here. He succeeds Art Embree, who retired as assistant postmaster, effective Sept. 30.

Rossi, his wife, Lillian, and two children, Daryl, 8, and Diane, 7, live at 454 Manzanita.

Woman's Club Plans Meeting Wednesday

Members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club will meet for their regular monthly luncheon meeting Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 12 o'clock noon in the clubhouse.

Following a business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Marion D. Austin, the program chairman, Mrs. Neil Fallon, will introduce Edna Stearns Dayton who will present a play review.

Reservations must be in by Monday, Oct. 10, and may be made by calling Mrs. Ruby Barham at CUSter 5-0208.

Council Seeks Immediate Action On Tax Funds for City Streets

Kiwanis Club Here Elects New Officers

New members of the 1956 Board of Directors for the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club were elected at the organization's meeting Tuesday in the Woman's Club.

They are John Curtis, Knox Hagar, James Wilke, Morris Yassin and Charles Louk.

Holdover members of the 1955 board who will serve next year are Dr. Daniel D'Arcy, City Administrator Lawrence Bevington, Leland Marsh and Henry Nelson.

The 1956 board elected John Curtis as president for the ensuing year and Larry Lomax as vice president. Richard Hartley was appointed secretary.

Earlier, Charles Skutt, superintendent of Sierra Madre Schools, presented his second program of illustrated color slides on his recent trip to Europe and the Near East.

The pictures and commentary covered the Skutt's route through Italy, Switzerland, Germany, France, Denmark, Norway, England, Scotland and back to the United States.

Guests at the luncheon included Robert W. Lane, Sierra Madre Jeweler; Harry Elwood, publisher of the Sierra Madre News; Kiwanians Edward Wopshall and Stuart McComb of the Pasadena Club, Robert Hanley, Monrovia, and George Shirk, Altadena.

Plan Study of S.M. Problems

Plans to appoint a committee to study Sierra Madre's problems and make a report to Governor Knight were formulated Tuesday night at the first meeting this season of the local Co-ordinating Council.

Representatives of about 30 local organizations attended the session in the Community Nursery School.

Governor Knight, it was reported at the meeting, has written to the city councils of all California communities requesting a survey of local problems, particularly those pertaining to juvenile delinquency.

A committee to report on Sierra Madre will be chosen at the Co-ordinating Council's board meeting Oct. 20.

The remainder of Tuesday's meeting was devoted to reports from local clubs and civic groups and to the exchange of ideas.

Vista Still Vista; Council Ponders Change in Name

The thorny problem of changing the name of Vista Ave. grew thornier still at the City Council meeting Tuesday night.

The City Planning Commission, it was discovered, has not yet held an official meeting on the subject. This is expected to be done Oct. 13.

Then the commission must recommend the change to the City Council and set a date for a public hearing. In addition, the council must approve, a new name must be adopted and about a million maps must be changed.

The fact that the name "Vista" appears 50 times in the Los Angeles area, however, is considered by many to be sufficient reason to adopt a new handle. The name proposed is Selva Ave.

Book Club Sets Meet Oct. 11

The first meeting this fall of the Monrovia Great Books Club will be at 8:15 p.m. Oct. 11 in the Monrovia Library.

Co-leaders will be Anne E. Cotter, 575 Skyland Dr., Sierra Madre, and Lester J. Bergslien, librarian. Those who plan to attend should read the book to be discussed in advance of the meeting. There is no charge.

The Book of Job will be discussed at the first meeting and subsequent sessions will include reviews of the Western World's great literature, from Plato to Freud.

Additional meetings will be on the second Tuesday of each month until next summer.

PTA TEAM FALLS SHORT OF GOAL

The Sierra Madre PTA team hit a bloop double in its membership drive this week rather than the anticipated home run.

Children on the PTA team signed up only 623 recruits as of noon Wednesday, about 300 less than last year.

Mrs. Claude H. Brown Jr., PTA president, although somewhat disappointed over the results of the drive, pointed out that new team-mates will be accepted at any time.

Admission tickets to join the team are only 50 cents. Prizes to the youngsters who signed up the most recruits and veterans will be awarded Monday.

MRS. ALVIN LENZ AND MRS. HOMER WISHEK, artists and historians of the San Gabriel Valley, show watercolor of the early Baldwin stables. Paintings of early Sierra Madre landmarks will be shown at the Tea and Talk at 2 p.m. Oct. 13 in the Parish House of the Church of Ascension. Mrs. Eugene Field Englar, president of St. Catherine's Guild and chairman of the tea, announced that Mrs. Hall Perry is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Helen Hutton, Mrs. Lorena Cable and Mrs. Spencer Edwards.

A strong resolution requesting immediate action on gasoline tax funds needed to pave Sierra Madre streets was passed unanimously by the City Council Tuesday and sent to the County Board of Supervisors.

The resolution, prepared by City Atty. Guy Cornyn, said in part "that the Board of Supervisors . . . be requested to take appropriate action on this request without further delay."

A copy of the resolution also was sent to the county road commissioner who thus far has refused to accept the city's request for $22,690.67 of gas tax funds.

His refusal is based upon the position that he cannot act until the Board of Supervisors adopts a definite policy specifying requirements to be met. Action on the money, badly needed here for street repairs, has been delayed since last December.

The money is needed to repave parts of Manzanita, Ramona, Fairview, Carter and Michillinda.

The resolution noted that the proposed improvements "are needed immediately" and that Sierra Madre is "unable to finance the cost . . . without the financial assistance requested."

In addition, the resolution said that the City Council believes the requested allocation of funds may be made under the California Street and Highway Code.

Plans Nearly Completed for Dollar Days

Plans for Sierra Madre's Dollar Days were nearly completed late Wednesday as enthusiasm for the annual fall promotion continued to grow.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the two-day event tomorrow and Saturday will feature a breakfast and hobby fair.

Tickets to the breakfast from 7:30 to 11 a.m. Saturday will be sold today and tomorrow at the following three locations in downtown streets—in front of the bank, at Kersting Court and Sierra Madre Blvd., and at the corner of Lima and Sierra Madre Blvd. In addition, tickets are still on sale at several stores, the Post Office and The News, for 50 cents each.

The breakfast will feature a man-sized meal of orange juice, sausage and hotcakes, plenty of hot coffee and milk. The food is being donated by Harold Roberts.

Admission to the Hobby Fair—the first community-sponsored event of its kind in the city's history—will be free.

Mrs. Peggy Lusman, Fair chairman, reported that approximately 25 individual and 12 group exhibits will be on display in the Park House on Saturday.

There is still room for more exhibits, Mrs. Lusman said. Exhibitors should bring their displays to the Park House Friday afternoon or by 8 a.m. Saturday.

Saturday also will be proclaimed "Sierra Madre Day." It is hoped a similar event will become traditional each year in Sierra Madre.

Bob Green is general chairman of the Community Breakfast and Hobby Fair; Charles Louk, breakfast chairman; Mrs. Harold Roberts, ticket chairman; Mrs. Martyn Rountree, organization co-ordinator; Mrs. Peggy Lusman, chairman of the hobby division, assisted by Mrs. Ed Meyer, and Richard Hartley, arrangements chairman.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

Mr. Mrs. or Miss Sierra Madrean, did you or any of your family living here ever write a book? If so, Miss Martha Pritchard of the Sierra Madre Public Library Board would like to hear from you.

Miss Pritchard is displaying the literary works of Sierra Madre writers in the library and would like to make the exhibit as complete as possible.

In 1883, when Sierra Madre was small indeed, one R. W. C. Farnsworth published a book about this and surrounding areas under the title, "Southern California Paradise," and it was about that same time that Helen Hunt Jackson, gathering material for "Ramona," was the guest of Abbott Kinney at Sierra Madre Villa and must have compiled a good many notes for that American classic here.

In the years since then, many writers have sojourned and worked here, but many of them existed so quietly—possibly because some of them were eager not to be disturbed by creditors—that their activities were not generally known.

For instance, B. M. Bower—who wrote such he-man novels of struggle and adventure that readers all over the United States thought she was a man—lived and wrote here for sev-

PTA Again Offers Student Accident Insurance for Schools

Once again the PTA has made arrangements to make student accident insurance available for the Sierra Madre public schools.

Descriptive literature on this insurance plan has been mailed out to each family and is available on a voluntary basis.

Under this type of insurance the coverage pays up to $1,000 total medical care and accidental death and dismemberment coverage up to $1,000.

It also provides up to $100 to cover dental treatment caused by accident at school. Mailing application forms promptly will enable a child to be insured as soon as the forms reach the insurance company. Regularly enrolled children may qualify for student accident insurance, which costs only $2 per child for the entire year.

New parents interested who have not received an application form for their child, please contact the PTA insurance chairman, Mrs. Mit Kunihiro (Custer 5-1309) and the necessary papers will be mailed out promptly.

Also, those parents in need of more application forms for their children may inquire at the school office.

Around the Square

By SEWALL CLARK

Anybody here want to start an argument? Come on. Don't be a sissy. Let's start something. Let's talk about autumn in Sierra Madre, deer in the yard, Postmaster Charles E. Louk, and Art Ottonson of Art's Pet Supply.

How do these things get started? It's real easy.

During a brief conversation the other day we were reminded of "Homecoming Days" at school, football games, and the nostalgic mood of autumn.

Our own homecoming seasons, with the decorated houses and stage props on the lawns, brought the traditional football games at about Thanksgiving—Missouri versus the University of Kansas.

We didn't think anyone in Sierra Madre could be acquainted with those mid-western days until one evening in front of City Hall with Charlie Louk—he was our mayor then—when we learned that he and his wife came here from Lawrence, Kansas, where both of them were graduated from K.U.

So we thought about autumn. We remembered the red-and-gold leafed days in New England and Missouri, and how our friends there had warned us how much we would miss the change of seasons once we moved to California. And that was when we thought we ought to start an argument.

We love the memories of New England, the autumn-blue skies and the sea turning cold in September, and the mellow "Indian summers" of the middle west—but in the very first of our 14 years here, much to our surprise, we discovered the mood of seasons in Sierra Madre. You can smell the autumn-earth here as surely as you could smell the snow just before it flicked across your eyelash during that homecoming game way-back-when.

Don't tell us there are no seasons in Southern California. Even the animals are our witnesses.

Art Ottonson of "Art's Pet Supply" was delivering some of that extra-special horse meat the other day to keep our garbage pail from being tipped over (so you don't believe it?) when he saw the deer resting in the shade of the twin oaks. He prophesied that with the first "smell of autumn" the deer would disappear for awhile, because every buck and doe knows that the "smell of autumn" can mean the smell of gunpowder.

eral years without becoming much known.

When I came here in 1927, "Who's Who" stated that Sierra Madre was the home address of the then famous author of "Bird of Paradise," whose name I cannot now recall. After that he came here to be the house guest of Anita Baldwin, with whom he collaborated on a play which I saw produced at the old Mason Opera House in Los Angeles.

Miss Pritchard would be happy to receive gift or loan copies of those or any other books or pamphlets by Sierra Madreans, to include in the exhibit.

Some of the publications in the exhibit may have seemed of little importance when published but have taken on added historical value since the most famous book by a Sierra Madrean was "Tree of Liberty," by Elizabeth Page, the most talked about novel in America in 1939.

The most dynamic, if one may coin a word, is "Reminiscences of a Ranger," by Horace Bell, who had a great gift of recalling things other persons wished unknown.

The list Miss Pritchard has collected so far includes volumes by R. W. C. Farnsworth, Margaret Collier Graham, Dr. Norman Vridge, Rev. James M. Campbell, Rev. Sidney C. Kendall, Arthur Weir, Horace Bell B. M. Bower, Perley Boore Sheehan, William Andrew Spaulding, Florence Eakman, Herman Livezey, John Russell McCarthy, Robert McCullagh, Marguerite Addis, May Stanley, Eleanor Tucker, Elsie Blumer Hart, Lee Shippey, Harold Carraw, Elizabeth Page, Naomi Simmons Klipstein, Dr. Frederick L. Whitney, Hugh Addis, Ruth Cranston, Dr. Raymond Pease, Maisie Skutt, Harlan Ware and Rozelle R. Paus.

Work which has been published in magazines but not in covers cannot be included in such a collection, unless the author has put it in covers in scrapbook form.

Miss Pritchard has started something which may be of pride and value to us in years to come. So if you know of books or booklets which should be included, let her know.

Garden Club Plans Meeting October 10

The Sierra Madre Garden Club will have its first fall meeting Monday evening, Oct. 10. Dinner will be served to members and their guests at 6:30 p.m.

The club is happy to announce the speaker of the evening will be Miss Peggy Sullivan. She will show color slides of tropical plants and flowers taken during her recent Caribbean trip.

Members are urged to attend this very interesting meeting and bring a guest.

A.L.A. Slates Meeting Thursday, Oct. 13

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday, Oct. 13, in the home of Mrs. Roy Pickett, 189 W. Highland, at 8 p.m.

The group will hold its rummage sale, which was postponed because of the heat, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7 and 8, at the location formerly advertised, the lot west of Fischer's Hair Fashions.

Poppy chairman Kitty Miller is a grandmother again. This time it is a little granddaughter, Donna Louise Miller, born Sept. 30.

Tennis Clinic Set Here for Area Youth

A free tennis clinic for boys and girls 10 years of age and older was started last Saturday in Sierra Madre Park by Mrs. Paul F. Landwehr, 260 W. Carter Ave. About 35 youngsters attended.

Additional clinics, Mrs. Landwehr said, will be held each Saturday at 9:30 a.m. until Thanksgiving vacation, when a tournament will be arranged.

Tennis balls are being supplied by the newly formed Sierra Madre Tennis Club. Students are requested to bring racquets and tennis shoes.

The clinic, which has been approved by the Recreation Department Commission, includes the fundamentals of tennis and tennis etiquette for good sportsmanship.

During the past year, Mrs. Landwehr has been employed by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation for the tennis program at Arcadia County Park.

Not having time is a poor excuse—you have all the time going, and nobody has more.

SIERRA SWIFTS WILL MOVE OCTOBER 15

Sierra Swifts, a home-occupancy business at 239 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., will be moved Oct. 15 to a standard business address at 140 E. Montecito, according to an announcement by the owner, Robert Leonard. The recent addition of new machinery takes the business out of the home-occupancy class, Leonard explained.

Free 'Silver' at Shopping Bag Anniversary

Shopping Bag Food Stores marks 25 years of progress by a celebration sale beginning today and continuing through Oct. 16.

Highlighting this sale are many special prices in all departments. Stores have been completely decorated, inside and out, presenting a gala atmosphere for this event.

Instead of receiving gifts on its silver anniversary, Shopping Bag Food Stores is going to give away gifts—25,000 of them—all silver dollars.

The giveaway is scheduled to start Oct. 6 and run for eight consecutive weeks. At the end of the eight-week period, Shopping Bag patrons will have won 1,600 pounds of silver dollars.

W. R. Hayden, president of the firm, stated:

"This is our way of saying thank you to you, our patrons, for the loyalty you have shown week after week. You have been individual ambassadors for Shopping Bag, telling your acquaintances about the store 'where shopping is fun.' Your pride in Shopping Bag is our most important asset... an asset we shall continually strive to merit."

Victory Park Possible as School, Golf Site, Planners Agree

Professional planners from Pasadena and Los Angeles County agree there is enough acreage in the Victory Park for joint development of a park, golf course and school.

These were the two developments this week that raised hopes of persons advocating a high school or junior college in the Victory Park section.

The other development was the possibility that the pending legal opinion on the county's ability to relinquish land to the school district may be favorable to the plan. There is precedent for relinquishing undeveloped county park land to a school district.

On Monday, representatives of Supervisor Roger Jessup were given a conducted tour of the Victory Park area by Earl Messer, Pasadena realtor and chairman of the 1954 school site committee, and other Pasadena businessmen.

The committee reportedly demonstrated how the land could accommodate the school as well as the city park and county golf course.

These actions are leading up to a promised report from Jessup next week on whether the county will provide some acreage to the school district.

Under consideration is a plan for Pasadena to provide 15

SIERRA MADRE NEWS—3 Thursday, October 6, 1955

acres at the north end of Victory Park and for the county to provide 25 acres from the golf course land, thus creating a 40-acre campus.

Bethany S.S. Marks Up New Record

The annual Rally Day of the Bethany Sunday School marked a new record in attendance this year.

On Sept. 25 there were 521 present of an enrollment of 604. This was the first time that as many as 500 had ever been recorded in the history of the church. There were 500 present again this past Sunday.

A dedication of the Sunday School staff, which numbers about 60 workers, was held during the regular church service this past Sunday morning. Dr. Robert N. Schaper led in the prayer. Of special significance was the gain in the junior high department, which now has 90 on the roll. Edward Schrotzberger is superintendent of that department.

A new record also was set by the Christian Endeavor societies which meet at 6 p.m. on Sundays. There were 95 present in the four departments, according to Raeburn Woodson, youth director of Bethany Church.

Congregationalists Plan Family Supper Night October 12

Next Wednesday will be Family Supper Night at the Congregational Church.

Members and friends of the parish are invited to share in the fellowship of the supper, and in the program to follow.

There will be a special showing of the stewardship film, "The Secret of the Gift," filmed in the Morningside Evangelical and Reformed Church in Inglewood, and featuring veteran Hollywood performers. The film is designed for appeal to all members of the family.

Services will be at 9:30 and 11 this coming Sunday in the sanctuary of the church. Full church school, with classes from nursery through high school, is held at 9:30, and nursery care is available at the 11 o'clock hour.

The Rev. George W. Lindsay's sermon for this coming Sunday will be "Commitment and Community."

Heer Infant Baptized At Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Heer, Jr., of Hastings Ranch had their infant son, John Edward Heer, baptized in the Sierra Madre Methodist Church last Sunday. Present from Mount Vernon, N. Y., to serve as sponsors of the child, were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Harrison. Mrs. Harrison is Mr. Heer's sister.

'Close of the Cycle' To Be Rabbi Steckel's Sermon Topic Oct. 7

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel, spiritual leader of the Foothill Jewish Community Center, 212 N. Lima St., announces services tomorrow will begin at 8:30 p.m. His sermon will be "Close of the Cycle." Cantor George David will chant the services to assist the Rabbi.

After the services, the hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kaufman, 1631 Oakwood Ave., Arcadia, in honor of their son, Nathan, who will be Bar Mitzvah the following day, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schaffer.

Saturday morning services, Oct. 8, will begin at 9 o'clock. At this time, Nathan Kaufman will be Bar Mitzvah. Rabbi Steckel will speak on "What Does Kaddish Mean to You?"

Simchath Torah services will begin Oct. 8 at 7 p.m. This is "The Rejoicing of the Law" when the cycle of weekly readings of the Torah is concluded and now begun anew. At this time we rejoice for the heritage and possession of the Torah. All the children who attend the Sunday and Hebrew schools participate in these services.

Sunday, Oct. 9, Simchath Torah services will continue at 9 a.m. The sermon for this morning will be "Let Us Rejoice." Also, the students of the Sunday and Hebrew schools will have their services at 11 a.m. in the Sunday School building.

Receive New Members

The following were accepted by Bethany Church into membership at the business meeting last Friday night: Mr. and Mrs. Al Leeming, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard and their son, Drew, Mrs. Minnie Tavender, Miss Roberta Scott, Miss Isabel Perry and Mr. Ernie Triplett. These were publicly received at the service Sunday morning.

Bethany Seeks $100,000 Fund For Sanctuary

By official action of Bethany Church at its recent business meeting, the trustees have been directed to file an application with the corporation commissioner.

This application will be for permission to issue over $100,000 worth of church building notes which will pay 5 per cent interest for specified periods.

It is anticipated that these notes will be made available to the membership and to the public as soon as the application has been accepted and approved.

The successful sale of these notes will provide the church with the capital necessary to build its much-needed sanctuary immediately.

Other action taken at the business meeting included the approval of church membership in the National Association of Evangelicals, an inter-denominational organization representing 36 denominations, eight

Dr. McPheeters Offers Prayer at Statler Meet

Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters, pastor of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church, offered the opening invocation and prayer at the 59th annual convention of the National Association of Insurance Agents, meeting at the Statler Hotel Oct. 3, 4 and 5. The 2,500 registered delegates made this the largest convention in the history of the association.

92 colleges and organizations, nine specially affiliated bodies conferences of denominations, and over 600 individual churches from 34 other denominations. National headquarters of the organization are in Wheaton, Ill.

The church also voted to assume an additional missionary responsibility each month. This will be the payment of $100 per month into an equipment fund for Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore, members of Bethany Church, who will be leaving for South America as missionaries next June.

This brings the total church missionary budget to well over $800 a month.

'Money Sickness' Is Sermon Topic at Methodist Church

The commonest and most neglected illness in the U.S. today is money sickness, according to Dr. William Kaufman of the American Psychiatric Assn.

Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters, pastor of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church, will evaluate this statement in his sermon on "Possessing Your Possessions" next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The relationship which exists between money and moods, between functional and organic disorders, as revealed in the latest findings of the medical profession, is something recognized by Jesus Christ; hence His emphasis upon Christian stewardship as the only adequate and permanent solution to the problem.

Sunday will open the annual Every Member Canvass for pledges on the new church budget. Signed pledge cards will be received during the morning worship service as an act of devotion and Christian witness. Follow-up visits will be made to those unable to be present.

The newly organized Junior Choir and Youth Group will hold its second meeting on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The enthusiastic response to this new feature promises the early realization of a splendid musical organization for children 8 through 12 years of age. Parents are invited to bring or send their children. The program is over by 4:30 p.m.

The Executive Committee of the W.S.C.S. will meet Oct. 7, at 10 a.m., in the home of Mrs. George Frempter. The Sewing Circle will meet Oct. 11 in the home of Mrs. J. Earl Gossard at 10 o'clock.

'DISCOVERING YOURSELF' IS SUBJECT OF SERMON

"Discovering Yourself" will be the subject of the Sunday sermon, Oct. 9, at 11 a.m. by Dr. Ethel Barnhart at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

O'Bannon Faces Trial;

Ansel E. O'Bannon, 30-year-old Sierra Madren and former cavalry scout, will face battery charges Oct. 21 for allegedly striking an Arcadia resident who is a mere 64.

O'Bannon, 337 Camillo St., pleaded innocent last week at his arraignment in Santa Anita Municipal Court, Monrovia.

He is charged with striking Arch A. Stoddard, 1040 Rancho Rd., Arcadia, "several times in the eye" in an Arcadia market parking lot Sept. 24.

Stoddard, who made a citizen's arrest, alleged that the altercation started when O'Bannon's car backed against his own.

The Sierra Madre Irishman is a retired veterinarian and cavalry scout who served under Gen. McArthur in 1899 in the Philippines.

Semanons Club Seen in Probationary Stage

More cooperation and taking on of responsibilities by parents and teenagers alike is urgently called for if the Sierra Madre teenager Semanons Club and clubhouse are to continue, Frazier Dougherty wrote parents of club members in a letter last week.

Dougherty is president of the sponsoring organization, the Youth Activities Assn.

In the "progress and problem report" to approximately 150 families, Dougherty states that the club, started last June as the result of a Community Coordinating Council study, is now entering a probationary period.

He calls attention to a general meeting set for 8 p.m. Oct. 11 and urges a full attendance for reaffirmation of interest and willingness to take on and discharge specific responsibilities.

The teenager project has been carried more successfully and with more civic support than any other for this age group tried in our town before, the report points out. It is now operating in the black, according to Dougherty. "But," he adds, "if this present organization fails there is slim chance of another project for teenagers in the near future."

"The Semanons have the moral and material support of every influential group in the city," he continues, "but, frankly, do not have the active and enthusiastic support of enough parents of members."

The report explains that the Kiwanis, Exchange and other civic clubs, along with the VFW and Auxiliary, and other organized groups and individuals, have been giving financial aid.

The City Recreation Commission has reserved $150 in its budget for purchase of clubhouse equipment. In the next few weeks it is expected the clubhouse will have a new ping pong table, pool table and shuffle board.

To date the young people have been enthusiastic about the clubhouse and its sociability but, according to Dougherty, "have been far too lax to cope with the responsibilities of owning and running a clubhouse."

At the time of its organization it was considered desirable that the teenagers feel the clubhouse was "their very own" by assuming these responsibilities, a stipulation to which they heartily subscribed.

Specific and immediate needs, Dougherty sums up, are more parent aid and positive work from club members.

On Saturday night recently the clubhouse was unable to open because of failure of the parent supervisors to show up, a situation which would not bear repeating.

A questionnaire asking support of the club's objectives and volunteer chairmen, supervisors, etc., accompanies the report letter.

Dr. Harold Spears, San Francisco superintendent of schools, says: "Today, once a child has toddled into a California schoolhouse, he can just about continue going to school at public expense until St. Peter is ready to take over his post-graduate program."

Capt. Otto Meyer, San Francisco traffic director, says: "As for a San Franciscan, as people to award huge damages in accident cases; as motorists, they pay the highest insurance rates in the state."

Kay Ann Baker, daughter of Mrs. Ruth E. Ross of Monrovia and Aril Ross of Arcadia, exchanged nuptial vows with Don Lee Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Springer, 223 Santa Anita Court, Sept. 30 in the Sierra Madre Congregational Church. Rev. George Lindsay officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Charles Baker. She wore a pale pink taffeta ballerina length gown with a full nylon chiffon overskirt. A pearl tiara held her pink finger-tip illusion veil in place and her gloves were of pink net. She carried a white Bible with a spray of white carnations and pink roses arranged on it.

The maid of honor, Nancy Springer, sister of the groom, was attired in a pink nylon taffeta dress with a pink nylon over-skirt. Her pink half hat was draped with veiling and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Joseph Cox was best man and the ushers were Nocha Haines, Willie Annas, Arnie Richter and Robert Mullender.

Organ music was provided by W. Alden Webster.

The bride's mother chose a pale green linen dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The groom's mother was gowned in a blue and white nylon frock accented by white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Monrovia-Duarte High School. The groom graduated from Sierra Madre Elementary School, Woodrow Wilson Junior High School and Pasadena City College. He served four years in the U.S. Navy.

Central America Is Forum Topic At Monrovia School Today

The second in the present series of Community Forums will be presented in the Monrovia-Duarte High School auditorium Oct. 6 at 7:45 p.m. The topic will be "Our Friends and Enemies in Central America."

Keith Monroe, the speaker, is one of few foreign correspondents who has covered the troubled area of Central America. In 1953 and 1955 he spent months traveling by muleback, dugout canoe and jeep in this part of the world.

He talked to common people and leaders—in presidential palaces, secret police offices, penitentiaries and embassies.

Monroe is a free-lance magazine writer whose articles appear frequently in Reader's Digest, Saturday Evening Post, Life, Nation's Business, Harper's and other leading magazines.

President of Panama was mysteriously assassinated; there were two attempts on Nicaragua's dictator; a nationwide general strike pushed Honduras to the brink of civil war; a rebel army was driven from Costa Rica with the help of warplanes from the United States; El Salvador uncovered a Communist plot to seize its government.

What does it all mean? In his new lecture, Monroe explains the pattern, and tells why it holds both hope and danger for the United States. Season and individual lecture tickets will be available at the boxoffice for the price of $1 and 25 cents, respectively.

Garden Notes . . .

Plant Lawns Before Rainy Season Arrives, Experts Advise; Flowers Also in Style

Now, before the fall rainy season arrives, is an excellent time to set in a new lawn, says the California Association of Nurserymen. And, if all the proper steps are followed completely, there is no reason to doubt the success of your lawn planting project.

There are eight steps to follow if you want a lawn that will perform well for 5 or 10 years. The first step is to prepare the soil, breaking up and pulverizing it, picking out rocks and debris and digging up weeds by their roots. If you are working over fill, soak the area to settle it; soil deficient in nutrients can be enriched at this point by the addition of phosphorus in the future root area. Compacting soil can be corrected by mixing in a soil conditioner.

It may be necessary next to add topsoil. Topsoil added to the depth of four to eight inches above a heavier soil may mean future backing up of water. To prevent this the gardener should make a blend of the two layers. Select topsoil carefully, avoiding those that seem too sandy or too clayey.

Next, make the seedbed smooth and flat except for a slight pitch to allow for water run-off once the root area has reached its saturation point. To achieve lawn perfection water the seedbed daily for several weeks to bring up the weeds and settle soft spots. Level the bed by raking and firm it with a roller.

Now it's time to add fertilizer, preferably with a spreader, and then spread the seed. Pick a quiet day for sowing; divide the bed into quarters, making four approaches to the bed as you scatter the seed, either by hand, or again preferably, a spreader.

Lightly brush the bed with a rake to assure a thorough contact of seed with seed bed soil. Mulch with a pulverized, soaked and kneaded peat moss. Spread this evenly, 1/4 inch thick. For the next 20 to 30 days spend up to half an hour daily keeping the moss dark with moisture until the young grass is up.

The good gardener also will heed the following suggestions outlined by nurserymen:

1. Plant Camellias now. The early flowering types are beginning to bloom now or will shortly start. By proper selection of varieties your garden can have camellias in bloom from now till late spring.

2. Plant all types of ornamental shrubbery now. Do not forget the winter flowering types such as the fragrant Daphne and the colorful heather.

3. Ranunculus is one of the most productive of all bulbs. Each bulb produces, according to the size of the bulb, a great many flowers in the spring. These last remarkably well as cutflowers.

4. Also plant these spring flowering bulbs now: Tulips, Daffodils, Hyacinths, Freesia, Crocus and Dutch Iris.

Boy Scout News

Officers of the Mt. Wilson District, Boy Scouts of America, held their regular meeting last week in the Sierra Madre Youth Hut, and plans for many of the Scouting activities for the coming year were discussed.

District Chairman Marcus Woodward announced that since it was no longer possible to use the Sierra Madre School auditorium for our district Courts of Honor, it was necessary to secure other accommodations.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints graciously offered to let the district use its ample auditorium for the coming Court of Honor, which will be the largest during the year.

The auditorium is at 770 N. Sierra Madre Villa (just below the radio station), with ample parking in back. Due to previous commitments, the auditorium could not be used on Oct. 3, so it was postponed until Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

Ray Bowman, leadership training chairman, announced a Cub parents' training course beginning at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 11 at the Sierra Madre Park House.

Newell Barrett, finance chairman, stated that several of the institutions sponsoring scouting units in Sierra Madre have not yet turned in to him the names of five persons for each unit sponsored by the institution. These persons are to act as volunteer canvassers for the Sierra Madre Community Chest drive.

Richard Lees, health and safety chairman, informed all I-R's present he would soon be around to make a meeting place inspection. Frank Wright, camping and activities chairman, announced a scouters' overnight at Camp Huntington, and Reg Barrett, organization and extension chairman, said that several new units were being formed, and many old ones re-registering.

The district informed Robert Green of the Edison Co. that the scouts would be happy to support and participate in the contemplated flag display around town, and were also asked to participate in a hobby or scouting display during the Community Breakfast on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Investigations that eat up the taxpayers' money never seem to go on a hunger strike.

To please a man find out what he wants—what he needs is of minor importance.

Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand REPORTS THE WASHINGTON NEWS

REPORT ON LABOR
By JAMES P. MITCHELL
Secretary of Labor
(Guest Columnist for Representative Edgar W. Hiestand)

The central fact of 1955 that has bearing upon labor is stated quite simply. The United States of America has entered an era of peace and prosperity unmatched in her entire history.

What does prosperity look like? To the worker in manufacturing it looks like his weekly pay check, which now averages over $75. That's a record figure. To the housewife it means the prices in the grocery and department stores. I do not have to tell her that the cost of living has remained virtually steady for a year and a half and that her husband's increased wages have not been dissipated by inflation. To economists it looks like a line on a graph entitled the Gross National Product (the total of all the goods and services produced in America), a line that is currently nudging the $385 billion mark. This is a new high. To the builder it looks like new houses and new buildings, $42 billion worth this year.

Of particular interest to me is the employment figure. 65 million men and women are working in America, more than at any time in our history. Unemployment, on the other hand, is down to 2½ million, or 3.7% of the total workforce. That is an improvement, but we will not be satisfied as long as any American who wants and needs work is unemployed.

There have been many legislative gains in both the Federal and the State areas in the last couple of years. On the Federal side, personal income taxes have been reduced, 10 million additional persons have been brought under social security, 4 million working men and women not previously covered have been granted unemployment insurance, the minimum wage has been increased to $1 an hour, and other important advances have been made.

The individual States, responding to President Eisenhower's appeal, have taken more action in the field of improved labor standards legislation than in any single year since 1939. Workmen's compensation laws, unemployment insurance benefits, minimum wage statutes and industrial safety laws all have been improved. The amount of State action to improve their labor legislation is very gratifying.

The Department of Labor has instituted special programs on the skills of the workforce and the employment of older workers, two fields of importance to our national welfare and our future economy.

Such a brief round-up, of course, cannot adequately cover the many areas of labor activity that have received the attention of government, both Federal and the States, this year. It will suffice, however, to indicate to you the present health of our economy and the bright outlook for the future.

Plan Musical Teas As Prelude to Pasadena Concerts

Members of the Pasadena Philharmonic Committee are preparing for the opening of the philharmonic concerts in Pasadena Nov. 30 by holding a series of teas honoring the orchestra and presenting a forecast of programs and artists to be heard during the 1955-56 season.

Mrs. Robert Paradise, second vice president and chairman of ticket sales, is in charge of the teas and she will be assisted by Mrs. Bradford Bishop and Mrs. Ray Ewing.

Members and their guests will gather in Sierra Madre, San Marino and Pasadena, Mrs. Paradise said. On each occasion a musical program will be presented by members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

The first tea will be at the home of Mrs. Sam Haskins, Jr., 171 W. Orange Grove Ave., Sierra Madre, on Oct. 11. Receiving with Mrs. Haskins will be Mrs. James McCarthy, president of the committee; Mrs. William Brackenridge, executive vice president; Mrs. George Read, hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Philip Woodward, Arch Tuttle, Raymond Mattison, Charles Black, Emerson Winter, H. E. Everett and Sidney Falk.

Guests will include Mrs. Norman Chandler, Mr. Albert J. Adams and four members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra's string section, Mark Kramer, John Gootkin, Avita Stein and Gdal Saleski.

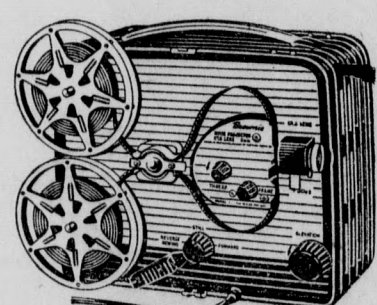

The Pasadena tea will be held in the home of Mrs. John B. Callaghan, 639 Rosemont Ave., on Oct. 14. Hostesses who will assist Mrs. Callaghan are Mrs. Westcott Price, Jr., Mrs. Hallett Smith, Mrs. Richard Frank and Mrs. Donald Hydrick. Guests of honor will be Mrs. Howard Currier, Mrs. Carl F. Dumbolton and Mrs. Alice Taylor.

The final tea will be in the San Marino home of Mrs. Theodore Larsen, 1325 Shenandoah Rd., on Oct. 18. Mrs. Ernest Messner, Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie, Mrs. Peter Gardett, Mrs. William Beaton, Mrs. James H. Kindle, Mrs. Ward Ingram and Mrs. Giles Hall will welcome the guests. They are Mrs. Edward Carter, Mrs. Marie Weljensiek de Trujillo and Mr. William Hartshorn.

HOW TO surrender gracefully to an iron-willed daughter is illustrated by Douglas Wood, starred in "Reclining Figure" at Pasadena Playhouse as he busses the forehead of Charissa Hughes. Miss Hughes is making her big-time stage debut as the only female in the cast of the New York comedy hit which sent the art world ducking for cover. Co-starring in the play are Ed Kemmer ("Commander Cory" of "Space Patrol") as Charissa's heart interest, and Gregory Gay, formerly a White Russian cavalry officer and now a leading Hollywood character actor.

Sound Acting Marks Satire, 'Reclining Figure,' at Playhouse

By E. N. VOORHEES

Pasadena itself is represented as the locale of the action of Harry Kurnitz's comedy-satire, "Reclining Figure," one of Broadway's hits of last season, now at the Pasadena Playhouse until Oct. 23.

In the Gold Room of his Pasadena mansion, Lucas Edgerton, the wealthy and eccentric manufacturer of a famous soft drink, and his lovely daughter Cass meet head-on in the crossfire of some half-dozen rival art critics and dealers, all excited and involved in the pending purchase by Edgerton of a reputed Renoir painting of a nude, recently discovered and bought with a "rubber" check for $300,000 by Samuel Ellis, the youngest—and most innocent—of the dealers, who expects to sell the painting to Edgerton for $100,000 before his check bounces back.

He does—after many a bout and many a twist of plotluck sprinkled with plenty of laugh lines to which the opening night audience rose like a hatchery full of trout at feeding time.

It was all good bait, and the only hook was the fact that the picture had been painted in that very house by Paul Weldon, a steady employee of Edgerton, and sold to young Ellis by Weldon's co-conspirator, Jonas Astorg, a guest in the house. This morsel is tossed to the audience fairly early in the play so that we may enjoy seeing all the others taken in while we feel superior in our knowledge and highly entertained.

It is her determination to marry the personable Ellis that induces Cass's father, amiably played by the versatile actor Douglas Wood, to buy the supposed Renoir.

Meanwhile, the parade and antics of the gullible and gilded art "authorities" gyrate around the narrowing vortex wherein the determined Cass Edgerton, played by the lovely Charissa Hughes, and the undecided Ellis, acted by Ed Kemmer, approach their eventual nuptial flight.

Walter Kray does an amazingly persuasive portrait of Roumanian art dealer, Denesco, George Truitt a hilarious sketch of the French Professor Jumelle, and Gregory Gay, a White Russian, as Jonas Astorg, the plotter and villain of the piece, last seen here as the Red Russian delegate in "The Prescott Proposals." It is magnificent in fineness of action, speech, and mood.

Horst Ehrhardt as the meticulous German is amusing, and Oscar Plant as William, the colored butler with a simulated West Indian British accent, is impressive by intent.

Marwyn Harbert, art director, did a realistic job on the Gold Room setting and does not shame Renoir in painting the nude. Barbara Vajda does veteran work on a difficult job as the director.

At the Davis campus of the University of California, two courses in institutional management have been added to the home economics curriculum. They include food study and management.

YOUR HEALTH

By ROY O. GILBERT, M.D.

Los Angeles County Health Officer

BEGIN THE DAY RIGHT

The tired feeling that comes to so many people during the day may well be due to an inadequate morning meal, according to reports of nutritional studies. The usual snacking but temporarily dissipates this fatigue and, even when a good dinner is eaten, the individual may show a deficit in essential food requirements at the end of the day. In spite of this, breakfast is the most neglected meal.

Although hunger may not be felt in the early morning hours, the hidden hunger within the body makes itself evident by such signs as weariness, irritability, dullness, nervousness, headache, or inattention. Generally speaking, it seems that the lack of a good breakfast tends to make the individual less efficient in whatever task he has to do.

Observations of school children show that those who eat an adequate breakfast usually make better grades, have a brighter outlook, and apparently have more energy left for outside activities. Yet many school children, particularly teenagers, do not get a morning meal that is considered nutritionally good, and some children get none at all.

Breakfast should supply somewhere in the neighborhood of one quarter of the day's total number of calories. The body's food needs are amply cared for by a breakfast that consists of fruit or juice (citrus or tomato), whole grain cereal with milk, bread and butter, and a beverage. Bacon and eggs are among the foods that may be substituted for the cereal. Naturally a person doing hard physical labor should have more of these foods than a sedentary worker.

These breakfasts keep the blood sugar level (the body's source of energy) high enough to ward off the pre-lunch slump that is so common an experience, but a low blood sugar level often results in weakness, dizziness, or fatigue and encourages the habit of between-meal eating.

A good breakfast is also economical. The amount of money spent on a hasty pick-up breakfast of coffee and doughnuts and the like, supplemented by a mid-morning snack, adds up to a greater cash outlay than the expenditure needed for a good breakfast prepared at home.

Weight-watchers would do well to remember that food eaten early in the day after an overnight fast is put right to work by the body. It is absorbed and digested during the most active daytime hours and is therefore less likely to be stored as fat.

A good breakfast should be leisurely eaten. It begins the day well and, comfortably bolstered with the proper food, the individual is better able to meet whatever the day might bring.

"Eat a Good Breakfast to Start a Good Day," a pamphlet that discusses the importance of a good breakfast and contains sample menus, will be mailed to anyone who sends a card of request to the Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 N. Figueroa St., Los Angeles 12.

A teacher shortage has developed in California which will become critical within five years, according to Dr. Aubrey L. Berry, director of school and college placement at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Liberal Arts Group Change Local Address

Subscribers to the 10-week course entitled "Ways of Man-kind" sponsored by the Pasadena Area Liberal Arts Center, now are meeting every Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snow, 310 E. Highland, instead of the Sierra Madre Public Library as previously planned.

Through essays, radio scripts, and recordings, the 10 programs give an insight into the cultures of other peoples.

The material furnished for discussion through the Fund for Adult Education has been prepared by Dr. Walter Goldschmidt, anthropologist of the University of California at Los Angeles, in a way designed to be entertaining as well as instructive.

As some of those who attended the first meeting at the Snows' Tuesday evening have commented:

"These informal get-togethers allow people to follow through on a subject without the constant interruptions and digressions that one finds at the average social gathering."

Members of the group, led by Mrs. Joseph Rosener, Jr., of Hastings Ranch, pay $12 a person or $18 a couple. These fees cover incidental expenses and the purchase of two books by each subscriber.

Ten persons so far have subscribed and others still may join the Tuesday night sessions by telephoning Mrs. Rosener at Custer 5-1389 or Mrs. William E. Hansen, director of the Liberal Arts Center, at SYcamore 5-4339.

Scanning the Sports Scene

With BOB BROGGER

This is the week you baseball fans have been waiting for. Yes, the time has come for us to announce the winners of our prediction contest. For those of you who tuned in late, here is what the contest was about . . . You were to pick the pennant winners in the American and National Leagues and predict the final standings of the Pacific Coast League. The entries were due one week after one-third of the season was over. And the winner would receive two tickets to the USC-UCLA football clash this fall.

There were no ties. Every entry, strangely enough, picked San Diego to win the pennant and Seattle to come in second, but it all ended up just the opposite. Also every entry picked Sacramento to end up in the cellar, which they did.

And now the winner of this year's contest . . . He's Arthur Bohart, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bohart, 615 Edgeview Dr., Sierra Madre. Young Arthur, who can now own the title of a baseball expert, did a tremendous job of predicting. Arthur picked the two pennant winners—New York and Brooklyn—and here is his prediction on the Coast League standings next to the official final one:

Arthur's	Seattle
San Diego	San Diego
Seattle	Hollywood
Hollywood	Los Angeles
San Francisco	Portland
Portland	San Francisco
Los Angeles	Oakland
Oakland	Sacramento
Sacramento

Congratulations to you, Arthur, for an excellent job. We'll mail you the tickets to the USC-UCLA game as soon as we get them.

Runner-up in the contest was Dennis Lees, who also picked the two pennant winners—Yankees and Bums—but only had two guesses right in the Coast League prediction.

We want to thank everybody for participating in the contest this year and wish you the best of luck next year.

Our football pick-of-the-week . . . Notre Dame 33, Miami 6.

ADRIAN S. QUICK, of South Pasadena, has been appointed district manager for the National Automobile Club in the Pasadena area. He succeeds H. R. Saul, who retired Sept. 30.

FIRE FLAMES

By JAMES HEASLEY

Fire Prevention Week begins October 9th. To Sierra Madreans this is only a reminder. If it were not for the continuous fire prevention work of local residents, we would not be able to report such low losses each year.

The improvement of fire departments and the fire prevention work practiced has brought us a fire insurance rate reduction. Few realize the importance of preventing fires from starting. Firemen, though, realize it has paid off.

On the other hand there are those who think that lack of fires should mean the reduction of fire department expense. Fire department business is the same as police work—"no business is good business."

On return from his summer vacation trip, Eber Thomas appeared at the semi-monthly meeting of the firemen displaying a black eye. When asked how he got it, he said the unrightly discoloration was a birthmark.

"What a mean, a birthmark?" asked curious Bob Orme. "Well," slowly answered Eber, "If you must know, by mistake, I tried to get into the wrong berth on the train." And then Jim Cass observed that "although it won't do any good to spank a girl after she's sixteen, it sure is a lot of fun."

Road Building Boom Still On

Highway construction in California has been booming during the past months, according to the National Automobile Club.

A total of 371 highway contracts involving expenditure of $234,917,800 were under way on Sept. 1 of this year, which was only $3,113,700 below the all-time high of 381 contracts involving expenditure of $238,031,500 that were under way on June 30, 1955.

Construction to Sept. 1, 1955, has included 1,662 miles of freeways, expressways and multi-lane divided highways on the state highway system completed or under way.

Area CD Body OK's Smog Aid In Emergency

Representatives of the 11 cities in the Area D Civil Defense organization, which includes Sierra Madre, voted last Friday to assist in any way possible if a smog alert of disaster proportions strikes the Los Angeles region.

City Administrator Lawrence Bevington represented Sierra Madre at the meeting in the Monrovia Council Chambers. Civil Defense would provide medical aid, welfare and even evacuate residents if the smog situation ever became that serious, according to Mrs. Alphonse B. Fages, Women's Activities Committee coordinator for Area D.

Reggie M. Bolt, area coordinator, displayed a chart at the board meeting showing the progress of the Civil Defense program in the 11 cities.

The program is progressing satisfactorily in Sierra Madre, Mrs. Fages said, and will make further gains under the leadership of Dr. Daniel D'Arcy, Civil Defense director here.

A governor's conference on Civil Defense will be held Oct. 13 and 14 in Sacramento. Sierra Madre will be represented by Richard W. Lees, chief warden.

Birthday Parties for British Home Guests

Two birthday anniversaries were celebrated last Tuesday evening at the British Home, 647 Manzanita.

The guests of honor were Miss Mary Christine Powell, who marked her ninety-seventh year, and John Archer, his eighty-sixth.

Miss Powell was born in Canada and Mr. Archer is a native of Ireland.

Lammers Sisters Top School Classes

Two Sierra Madre sisters are officers of the Student Council at Anokaia School for the coming year.

The girls, Gertrude and Sydney Lammers, are president of the junior and freshman classes, respectively. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Lammers, 61 E. Orange Grove Ave.

SCIENCE MUSEUM EXHIBIT SET OCT. 17

Would you like to see an 1880 business-office typewriter as small as a child's toy? Or a high wheel bicycle your grandfather might have used to whisk around town?

These and hundreds of other articles that were used in homes and businesses 75 years ago will be featured in a new historical exhibit called "California in the 1880's" which the California State Museum of Science and Industry in Exposition Park is opening this month.

The display will be unveiled to the public for a six-week run Oct. 17. It will be a feature of the Museum's diamond jubilee anniversary celebration.

Members of the Delta Gamma Junior Alumnae of Pasadena are completing plans for their benefit luncheon and fashion show to be held Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 12:30 p.m. in the main dining room of the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

Saks Fifth Avenue will present a premiere showing of fall fashions with top designers being featured. Decorated manzanita branches will be used in the unique table arrangements.

Mrs. Glen H. Highman, vice president of the Pasadena Juniors, is general chairman for the event. Mrs. Herman Gay, reservation chairman, has announced guests may make up tables for four, eight or 12.

The printing and distribution of tickets has been under the direction of Mrs. G. Douglas Hillier and Mrs. Harrison L. Kelly. The unusual fall decorations have been planned by Mrs. Henry M. Moffat and her committee.

Many attractive door-prizes have been promised by Mrs. Roger Dunstan. Other committee heads are Mrs. Charles S. Palmer, Jr., hotel arrangements; Mrs. Alan R. Stearns, patrons and patronesses; and Mrs. Matthew Slavin, III, publicity.

All proceeds from the event will benefit the nursery school for visually handicapped children in Los Angeles. The school was established in 1938 and is sponsored by the Delta Gamma Alumnae of Southern California.

Among those from the Ranch making reservations for the gala affair are Mrs. Victor E. Caffee, Mrs. Charles R. Hardison, Jr., Mrs. E. John Caldecott, Mrs. Harold W. Leffingwell, Jr., Mrs. Richard S. McClain, Mrs. Robert D. Meason, Mrs. E. E. Swanson and Mrs. John E. Eggleston.

Bridge Tourney Begins Oct. 23

Calling all bridge players—poor, medium or expert! The third annual husband-and-wife bridge tournament sponsored by the Hastings Ranch Nursery School will begin Oct. 23 with the entrance deadline Oct. 15.

Those interested may call Mrs. Gordon Wright, tournament chairman, at Custer 5-2962, or Mrs. Clyde Seitz, Custer 5-2935, for information or to sign up.

Each couple entering will receive a set of mimeographed rules. One game will be played every three weeks, the date and place to be arranged between opponents for mutual convenience. Donation will be $1 per couple per game.

Playoffs are set to begin June 10. High score and booby prizes will be given in each division of the tournament, with a grand prize for the top couple.

Last year the tournament was divided into five divisions, with 12 couples in each. The number of divisions and number in each will depend on the number wishing to participate this year. The competition is open to all interested, whether or not they are nursery school members.

45th Wedding Anniversary Observed by Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, Old Residents Here

Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Sharp, residents of Sierra Madre since 1920, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary last week in their home at 264 E. Highland Ave.

A long-time newspaper man, Sharp was married at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Thomson, Hamilton, Mo., Sept. 28, 1910.

From 1910 to 1917, Sharp edited and published the Altamont Times, the Kidder Independent, the Kingston Mercury and the Hamilton Hamiltonian, all country weeklies in Missouri. The Altamont Times is still publishing.

He moved to Washington, D.C., in 1917 and was employed by the Department of Commerce there and in Kansas City. In March, 1920, he was sent by the Commerce Department to California.

In that same year, he returned to his old calling—the newspaper business—and became publisher of the Sierra Madre News. Later, he worked for the F. W. Kellogg chain of papers and the Hermosa Beach Review.

He is a member of the Masonic Order, the Knights of Pythias, the Moose and formerly was also a member of the Lions Club. The Sharps have one daughter, Martha.

Of Sierra Madre, Sharp said, simply: "Everybody here is good to us. What more can we ask?"

MR. AND MRS. LEO E. SHARP celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary last week at a quiet dinner in their Sierra Madre home with their daughter, Martha. The couple was married September 28, 1910.

Wilder-Fritz Wedding Takes Place Sept. 24 at Double Ring Ceremony

Dawn Lynnette Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude F. Fritz, 476 Sturdevant, became the bride of Jim E. Wilder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilder of Altadena, in a candlelight double ring ceremony in Washington Street Methodist Church, Altadena, Sept. 24.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length white lace gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her finger-tip French illusion veil was held in place by a Juliet cap.

The bride's sister, Diane Fritz, was maid of honor. Her full skirted ballerina length gown was of pink and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The three junior bridesmaids were Claudia Fritz, another sister; Pamela Giles of Duarte, who wore pink frocks, and Janet Dyer, also of Duarte, who wore a blue dress. The girls carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Dave Pearson of Altadena was best man and Bob Brown of Pasadena was the usher.

The bride's mother chose a gown of aqua brocade and the groom's mother was attired in a navy blue ensemble. Both costumes were accented by orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the Altadena home of the groom's parents.

Following a honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nev., the newly married couple moved into their new home in Glendora.

The bride is a graduate of Sierra Madre Elementary School, John Marshall Junior High School, and she attended Pasadena City College. The groom is a graduate of Pasadena City College. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army Paratroopers and is now associated with the Los Angeles County Fire Department.

Robert Frame Exhibit Shows Power, Feeling, Craftsmanship

By MARVIN WEESE
Member, Exhibits Committee,
Friends of the Library

The exhibit of 19 paintings by Robert Frame at the Sierra Madre Public Library shows a number of good influences. Generally they are of the well-known Claremont School, but more, they show the progressive growth of the artist.

"The Still Life With Iris" is done in the rich colors and true craftsmanship of Henry McFee, and "Fisherman's Beach," a later painting, has a quality that is reminiscent of Phil Dike. Yet Robert Frame has learned more than his teaching. He strikes out alone. He is a young man with a definite view.

In this viewer's opinion his best stride is found in the painting titled simply "The Beach." It is more than that, it is a painting where the solid earth meets deep blue water with a powerful feeling in both. It is a design of sun and earth and water.

"The Purple Cloth" with 11 apples might be a problem picture in some rooms, but here it shows to bright advantage. It shows clearly that no forms or colors make too great a problem for Robert Frame. In his own words the subject is not so important as the painting.

In the wide landscape of "Hinterland" there is an abstract pattern that is intriguing. This painting will require more of your study than the strong central forms as shown in "Tropical Town."

"From the Window" is a pleasant picture. This small painting has tranquility, the simple harmony of forms well related to each other and to the picture as a whole. Its first dimension is outward.

Summing up: The Frame composition is always objective. There is very little left to chance. There is always a firm relation of one form to another and colors always have a purpose in their place. He is both artist and craftsman and his pictures have richness as well as strength.
